BLM HOSTS CUSTOMER SERVICE DAY JULY 20 IN ENNIS

DILLON (July 6, 2005) – If you have questions or concerns about land managed by the Bureau of Land Management (BLM) in the Ennis area, now is your opportunity to get your questions answered. On Wednesday, July 20, employees from the BLM – Dillon Field Office will be in Ennis from 10 am to 3 pm at the BLM office shared with the Madison Ranger District just west of Ennis.

“We invite public land users to stop in and visit informally with BLM staff,” commented Tim Bozorth, Dillon Field Manager. “If people have questions about management of the Bear Trap Wilderness, cattle grazing in the Wall Creek Game Range, weed management along the Madison River, or any other issue related to BLM land management, we want to hear from them.”

BLM staff on hand will include Field Manager Tim Bozorth, recreation specialist Susan James, and range specialist David Early. Please direct any questions to Early at (406) 683-2337.
